Why Sponsor at CISCA Connect?

We are the ceiling, acoustical treatment, resource and connection builder providing access to the industry's contractors, manufacturers, distributors and independent sales representatives. We help develop strong relationships between businesses and customers.

The Ceilings & Interior Systems Construction Association (CISCA) is the leading authority for information on the interior construction, material supply, acoustical ceiling and acoustical treatment industry.

Our mission for over 70 years has been to identify, communicate and address interior construction and acoustical ceilings industry knowledge and trends to our Membership through a range of interactive channels including regional and national events, with the vision to further the growth and development of the interior construction and acoustical ceilings industry by providing a unique platform for members and industry professionals.

Our 255 contractor members have over:

How to engage as a sponsor

- If you are a large company: to keep your brand in front of the market.
- If you are a smaller company: to set your company apart from the larger brands.
- If you are a new company: to establish a presence.
- If you want to learn the ABCs and meet the VIPs in this industry.
- If you want to continue the legacy of CISCA for the industry's next generations.

Sponsorship Levels for Manufacturers

Sponsorship Benefits:

- Company logo on the CISCA website and on all meeting material.
- If an educational sponsor, introduce educational speaker/s
- Your company name and logo in front of the attendees, but also the membership as your company will be thanked for the sponsorship on social media and e-blasts.
